KANSAS WANTS A CHANGE.

Thousands of Republicans in That State Tired of the Fight for Prohibition.

The Effort to Suppress Drinking by Law Proved to be a Ludicrous Failure.

A Demand for a Constitutional Convention to Frame a New Organic Law for the State

Thousands of republicans in Kansas are tired of prohibition and desire the substitution of high license, says a Leavenworth dispatch. Here, as in Iowa, the effort to suppress drinking by law has proved a Indicrons failure. In spite of the tyran nical espionage exercised by officers and the prohibition enthusiasts, those who desire a snifter of old rye or a bottle of lager beer have little difficulty in obtaining it. Meantime the money which would go into the public coffers under a high license law remains in the pockets of the liquor sellers, and taxpayers are compelled to make up the deficit. High taxes are burting the state by keeping out investors, and in scores of small towns property has depreciated since the prohibition era began, notwith-standing the growth of the state in popula-tion. All of these things have culminated in a demand for a constitutional conven-tion to frame a new organic law for the state in which the liquor traffic shall be reg-ulated and high license take the place of no license and high taxes.

license and high taxes.

At a meeting of the Republican Resubmission club of Leavenworth recently officers were elected and a constitution declaring that none of the members of the organization would support for a state, county or city office any many who opposed the cardinal principles of the club, was adopted. Lucien Baker, a lawyer well known throughout the state, addressed the audience of nearly a thousand business men and citizens. He said that the membership of the club numbered 500 men, who were pledged to support the issue, and if there were any present who were not willing to abide the consequences their names would be stricken from the roli. Some one in the audience consequences their names would be stricken from the roll. Some one in the audience asked everyone willing to support the constitution to rise, and the crowd stood on its feet to a man. Resolutions were adopted reciting that the best interests of the state require a revision of the constitution; that a special convening of the legislature for the purpose is demanded of the party in power; that certain amendments should be resubmitted to the people, and inviting the co-operation of all good republicans throughout the state. It is estimated that within thirty days 80 per cent of the republican party of this county will declare itself in favor of the movement. The agitation of the measure was begun in this city by an informal meeting of sixtythis city by an informal meeting of sixty-six business men in a downtown office only six days ago, and the demand for revision meets with almost unanimous favor.

HE COMES VERY HIGH.

Sullivan Will Not Fight for Less Than $20,000, But Eager to Meet Jackson.

John L. Sullivan says that he and Mc-Caffrey are not in the same class, and that McCaffrey had better fight Kilrain or the "Marine" before fighting him. In common with his Boston friends, John thinks Me- 212 AND 214 NORTH RODNEY. Caffrey's wants are inspired by a desire to make money at the expense of Sullivan says he will fight McCaffrey on ondition that the California Athletic Club offers a purse of $10,000 and that McCaffrey will bet $10,000 on the result. He also says that he will fight Peter Jackson for a purse of $20,000. "McCaffrey says he will fight me with any gloves. The California Club will not allow anything lighter than five-ounce gloves for anything lighter than five-ounce gloves for their ordinary contests. If they want me to fight McCaffrey, they must allow three-ounce gloves. I won't put on anything heavier. The lighter they are the better. But I don't think McCaffrey will show up in the ring. He doesn't want to fight me for the championship. He is after money and nothing else. He says that the California club will perhaps put up a $7.500 purse for us. That else. He says that the California club will perhaps put up a $7,500 purse for us. That is not enough. I won't fight for any such sum. They'll have to make it $10,000. Mc-Caffrey hasn't got a cent to his name and he wants a limited number of rounds, hop-ing that he can pull through and get a big sum for doing so. It is for that reason that I insist roon a bet of $10,000 and a "finish" fig! t. That will show which is the cham-pion."

pion."
"How about fighting in some other place?"
"I shall not fight in any place where there is a possibility of getting into trouble with the police."

When will you be ready to fight?" "When will you be ready to fight?"

"That depends entirely upon how I get along in Mississippi; I've got to go down there in two months and they may send me up for a while. Of course I must wait until that is settled before fixing the date, but it will come some time after I get through with the court down there. All I shall want will be a reasonable time toget in condition and then we'll settle the matter. You might say," added the champion in conclusion. "that I have decided to have a fight with Jackson. I see they are talking of matching him against Kilrain. If they do that before giving me a chance I won't have anything to do with them, even if he does whip Kilrain. I am the champion white man Kilrain. I am the champion white man and it is not more than right I should have the first chance, but there will be time enough to talk about that after I get through with McCaffery.
